THE CLIPPER AND YOU...

The Elba Clipper, along with 9,000 other weeklies in the nation, takes prideful note of the 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week and on this occasion we would like to talk with each subscriber as friend to friend.

We invite you to re-examine your newspaper's worth to your community. We invite constructive criticism, for we know that through constructive criticism, your newspaper may be better able to meet the challenge to greater improvements.

And while we invite constructive criticism from you, we would like to emphasize again that a newspaper is first of all a public servant, and in order to continue as your servant, it is necessary that we operate on sound business principles. The Elba Clipper management, above all, must watch its expenses and income because no business can operate if its expenses run ahead of income.

As our income increases, our service increases. As our income decreases, our service decreases. Because we must keep our expenses within our income, we must often discontinue you in not providing some of the services we would like to provide.

The income from circulation hardly pays for ink and paper, and the cost of mailing. This is a basic principle of most newspapers, weekly and daily. To meet the payroll, pay insurance, electric bill, water bill, and a thousand and one other expenses which any business classifies as "overhead," The Clipper must look to its advertising, job printing, and office supplies.

It is a part of The Clipper's service to print news of a wedding. Therefore, the family which buys printed wedding announcements from The Clipper thereby provides an item of income to enable The Clipper to publish the news of the wedding.

It is a part of The Clipper's service to print the news of club meetings. Therefore, the club which buys its printed programs from The Clipper reciprocates for that service.

The same may be said of any other organization or individual who looks to The Clipper to print news about that organization or individual.

No other business serves to advertise a town or city so much as a newspaper printed in that town or city. Each time a copy of The Clipper is delivered to a home in Jack, that family is reminded of Elba. Therefore, every store or other business in Elba receives each publication day of The Elba Clipper. And it follows that the store which places an ad in The Clipper, or buys a printing of envelopes from The Clipper, reciprocates for that service.

There are those who never pay anything to a church, yet have no hesitation to call upon the minister when there is illness in the family. There are those who think nothing of asking a lawyer about a point of law, but never think of paying him for the information. Yet without money, a church could not have a minister to serve in the pulpit, and at funerals, the lawyer could not pay his office and family expenses, the newspaper could not print the news about funerals, club meetings and weddings.

On this 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week, The Elba Clipper wishes to express appreciation to its family of subscribers whose loyalty is such that The Clipper has one of the largest paid circulation lists of any newspaper in the county published in a community with a population equal to that of Western Coffee County.

The Elba Clipper wishes to express its appreciation to its advertisers who provide the income that enables The Clipper to have such a long list of loyal subscribers. The Elba Clipper wishes to express its appreciation to those who look to The Clipper to print their envelopes, calling cards, wedding announcements, handbills, tags, and other forms of commercial printing.

Our appreciation to those who buy their typewriting paper, carbon, adding machine paper, and other office supplies which make up an important part of this newspaper's income.

Our appreciation to those who send us and our correspondents the news about their clubs, parties, visits, weddings, births, deaths, and other items which account for our local subscribers.

All these combined give newspaper workers the satisfaction to be found in service above self.

Letters To The Editor...

The Elba Clipper,
Elba, Alabama October 11, 1961
Dear Mr. Lane:

I wish to thank you for carrying an account of my recent address before the local Business and Professional Women's Club here in Elba. Please be assured that as public relations chairman of Coffee County Education Association I am grateful for the prominent display you gave in your fine publication.

However, I feel that in a day when our school finances are constant topics of household conversation, it is extremely important that statements involving these matters should be handled correctly. Therefore, I would like to make some corrections of statements attributed to me which I did not make but which doubtless were in the article due to typographical error or reportorial error.

In the article I was quoted as saying that "the citizens of Alabama last year spent 33 billion dollars" on liquor, tobacco, and entertainment as compared to 13 billion spent on education. Obviously Alabamians don't have any such money to spend. The statement should have been that in 1958, according to an estimate by the Department of Commerce the American people spent some 33 billion dollars for alcoholic beverages, tobacco, and commercialized recreation as compared to some 13 billion dollars for education in the public, secondary, and elementary schools.

In the interest of accuracy I would like to ask you take whatever steps needed to call attention to your readers about this matter. In the meantime please be assured that I personally and professionally appreciate your continuing interest in behalf of public education of our boys and girls.

Sincerely,
Curtis Duke

FROM OUR EARLY FILES... 21 YEARS AGO—

In reading over your "Early Files" column in the Clipper, it occurred to me that you might like to print the following item taken from the "Commissioners Court Minutes."

Coffee County Commissioners Court, December 4th, 1885

Present: B. W. Sparks, Judge; J. M. Carmichael, H. K. H. Horn, S. J. Cole and McKenney Page, Commissioners.

Whereas, Thomas Sissons, a pauper from the County of Walter & State of Florida was about a month since brought to this place and put down in the streets of Elba and left to be a charge upon this county and whereas the County of Coffee has as many paupers now as it can possibly provide for and even more; and whilst humanity has employed the authorities here to extend such aid to said Sissons as his unfortunate necessities required, yet feeling it to be the undutiful duty of the State and County where he last resided to assume the responsibility, it is hereby ordered that the said Sissons be forthwith conveyed to the County site of Walton County, Florida, and delivered up to the proper authorities there with positive instructions to the person (Mr. Jesse Bryant) who carries him, not to bring him back into this county and that for so doing the said Bryant shall be paid at the rate of four dollars per day out of any monies in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Elbian, Aged 21, Is Fatally Hurt in Automobile Crash

Jackie Wayne Varnadore, 21, of Elba, was fatally injured Saturday, last week, about 7:15 p.m. when the automobile he was driving alone left the Pack Plant road about a half mile from Curtis and overturned twice.
